

TROUBLESOME WERE THE PUZZLES

Some of The Journal's Army are Evidently Not Good "Guessers."

MANY WERE "NEARLY CORRECT," BUT OF COURSE, ARE BARRED. THAT SLIPPERY OLD DOLLAR WON THIS WEEK BY MISS IDA MALLORY.

The Puzzle Army seems to have had considerable more trouble with last Sunday's puzzle pictures than usual, and some of them evidently are not good "guessers."

Miss Ida Mallory, 229 Palafox street, is entitled to the dollar whenever she calls for it at The Journal office.

Some of the Puzzlers are so nearly correct the Puzzle Editor is often sorely tempted to overlook the little discrepancies, but never does, as that would be unfair to those who are careful to give correctly every word as pictured in The Journal, and quite as unfair to the little Puzzlers who are not accurate, as one of the best of the many things taught by the pictures, is the necessity for being accurate.

Following are the correct answers to last week's puzzle pictures:

Correct Answers.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead

A Week of Fact and Fancy, Fun and Folly in Florida

Prefers the Simple Life.

The editor of the Tampa Tribune is very complimentary to the editor of the Times-Union, who does not merit all the good things said about him in connection with a very high political office, that he never expects to hold and does not aspire to hold, and cannot be persuaded to take, any quicker than he can be induced to embrace a red-hot stove. A very simple, quiet life becomes the environment of his corner in the world, setting himself no higher in the virtues than thousands of fellow-Floridians who are just as capable to hold down the executive chair as he, though it is expected in the ordinary run of human existence that he will be "alive and kicking" in the round-up and witness the respectful interment of a number of political shysters who play upon the prejudice of the people, and who know they are dishonest in dealing with them.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Don't Rob the Printer.

A stirring and truthful bard, now long since deceased once remarked: "We may forgive the man who robs His neighbor of his coal; But the man who robs the printer Is sure to lose his soul." Henry Williams, a dusky citizen,

Almost Correct.

John and Clara Frenkel send excellently written and almost correct answers with "Be" instead of "Breathes" there a man, etc.

Gerald Stein Massey also sends a nicely written answer, but quotes it "This marks my own," in the last phrase.

learned this morning, to his cost, that there are certain features of the above couplet which still survive even in this unregenerate age.

Henry is a dark-skinned citizen who has no cash and less business. Nevertheless he hankers after the news—expressed in the daily papers and has made it a habit to annex the Tampa Journals as they were flung into the hallways of subscribers.

City Detective Bell yesterday observed the dusky citizen in the act of purloining a morning paper and at once placed him under arrest, lodging a charge of stealing and vagrancy against him.

This morning in municipal court Judge Whitaker fined him $50 and costs, or sixty days on the city chain-gang.—Tampa Times.

Smoke Up!

The guilty hit the grit when no one pursueth or words to that effect. For the past two weeks a wall has been ascending from the cigarette brigade because the day was near at hand when the anti-cigarette law passed by the late Florida legislature would go into effect. But no such law was passed, and the secretary of state has certified the fact to the public over his official signature, to the great joy and relief of the aforesaid brigade. Smoke up!—Live Oak Democrat.

Doctors Must Submit.

The Duval County Medical Society has passed resolutions requesting the newspapers of Jacksonville, in giving accounts of sickness or accidents and the like, to omit the name of the doctor in charge of the patient, as they are not after that kind of advertising. The Jacksonville papers have refused to comply with the request, which would be the means of cutting out many a glaring headline, and thus lessening the interest of the paper generally. According to their assertions, if the doctors of Jacksonville will not pay for advertising, they must submit to it for nothing.—Quincy Times.

The Whole Thing.

The editor of the Banner this week is: Editor, publisher, foreman, printer and the "devil," and mostly the latter—not having any help since the 11th inst.—Jasper Banner of Liberty.

A Narrow Escape.

The editor of the Dothan, Ala., paper had a narrow escape from death lately. A farmer entered the office, subscribed for the paper and quietly drew a twenty-dollar bill on the editor.

The shock almost killed the paper man, but a skilled physician soon relieved him. Now, where the deuce did the farmer get the long green in such large quantities?—Milton Index.

What's the Difference?

A man went up to one of our citizens last Sunday and asked him to have a cold drink and when informed that he could not get it in town on Sunday said "that's all right, but we can across the river, what's the difference?"—White Springs Herald.

Blue Sunday at White Springs.

Yesterday was a blue Sunday in White Springs. Not a soft drink stand was open in the town and there was many a thirsty soul who sought relief but found it not. All this because the city council took a notion to issue an order that in the future no soft drinks and ice cream are to be sold on Sundays.—St. Augustine Record.

Keep on Bathing.

A young wife who has nobody in the house after hubby goes down town writes to the Times inquiring what to do when she is in the bath and the telephone or doorbell rings. She says it is very annoying and embarrassing. So it no doubt is, but if our friend will make a habit of going on calmly and leisurely with her bath, paying no attention whatever to the interruption she will find that people who have done the ringing will come again after a reasonable waiting spell and that she will have lost nothing.—Tampa Times.

Political Fences Dilapidated.

The fences of some Florida politicians have gotten into a dilapidated condition and are badly in need of rebuilding. And they'll find it quite a task to get them in fit condition for the next campaign.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Political Pot Steaming.

The political pot for the election next year is already showing a little steam. It's up to Punta Gorda to start it boiling with a big fish fry.—Zolfo Advertiser.

"Our Bob" a Favorite.

Notwithstanding Bob Davis's declaration that he has forever retired from politics, he is the logical candidate for governor to succeed Hon. N. B. Broward. He would not have to re-enter politics, for he is the favorite of the state, regardless of politics.—West Palm Beach Sun.

OUTING FOR THE POOR CHILDREN

Salvation Army Will Give Them Free Excursion to the Life Saving Station.

ARRANGEMENTS BEING MADE BY WHICH BETWEEN 60 AND 80 LITTLE ONES WILL HAVE A DAY OF PLEASURE ON THE GULF BEACH.

Under the auspices of the Salvation Army and through the efforts of Captain Richard Norris, in command of the local post, between 60 and 80 little ones, children of the worthy poor of Pensacola, will be given a day's outing at the Life Saving Station and treated to a dinner of fish chowder, sandwiches, ice cream, cake, lemonade and other good things dear to the childish heart. The date of the excursion has been set for August 2 and at 9 o'clock on the morning of that day the children, many accompanied by their parents, will board the Rambler for the trip across the bay. The return trip will be commenced early enough in the afternoon to allow of all getting safely home before dark.

In many of the larger cities of the country the Salvation Army has made outings for the children of the poor a feature of its summer work and the benefits which the little ones derive from these days of pleasure, which would be denied them but for the efforts of the army, more than repay the officers and others for the trouble of arranging for the trips.

Captain and Mrs. Norris have for several days been at work upon the project and tickets will be given only to those who are worthy and whose condition has been personally investigated. Anyone knowing of children who could not otherwise take a day's outing on the gulf beach will confer a favor by notifying Captain Norris, who will promptly arrange so that they may be included in the party.

Donations of sandwiches, cakes, candies, cream and other edibles by the charitably inclined will be gratefully received and will materially assist in making the outing the success which it ought to be and which Captain Norris hopes to make it.

Manager Burton of the pavilion at the station, has kindly volunteered to assist in the undertaking and will prepare the chowder for the excursionists.

THE PENSACOLA CLASSICAL SCHOOL

OPINION OF EDUCATORS AS TO ITS WORK.

Prof. Walter Miller, professor of Greek in Tulane University, after visiting the classical school, wrote the following unsolicited opinion to a friend and colleague:

"The Pensacola Classical School is doing a splendid work for the cause of southern education. It is established upon broad principles; it cherishes the highest ideals of scholarship; it maintains a high standard of excellence; and by the best modern methods and equipment it secures thoroughness of training comparable with that afforded by the great fitting schools of the east. To my mind the Pensacola Classical School is one of the very best secondary schools of the south."

Dr. Venable, president of the University of North Carolina, writes: "It gives me pleasure to testify to the thoroughness of the preparation of the students who have come from your school to the university. We should be glad to have more of the same type."

Dr. Geo. Pettie, professor of Latin and History in the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, writes: "I consider the Pensacola Classical School one of the best fitting schools in this section of the south. I can confidently endorse the thoroughness of its work and the healthy, manly atmosphere that pervades the institution."
